Overview

In 2025, the biggest complaint about Healthify was basic tracking moving into paid plans. That complaint has halved in 2026, and the rating has recovered from 2.3★ in Apr–Jun to 3.7★ in Jul–Sep. What's rising now is feedback from paid members about their coaching experience.

Why this matters

Much of today's feedback comes from members who invested in a coach. They are the customers with the highest lifetime value, and the ones most worth keeping.

Make the paid experience as dependable as the tracker

- 1 Consultation tracker: every booked call shows its status. If the coach hasn't joined 10 minutes after the start time, the member is told, gets a one-tap reschedule, and the miss is logged for the coaching team.
- 2 Coach changes with a handover: a reason, a note the new coach has read, and an option to ask for the previous coach.
- 3 A visible reply-time promise in coach chat (for example, "replies within 24 hours"), measured and shown to the member.

How I'd know it worked Paid-member renewal rate at the end of the first plan.
