IN SHORT

29%

of Nykaa complaints since 28 Jul are about a late order or a delivery date that moved (489 of 1,693).

9 weeks

in a row at 25–32% of complaints each week. Steady, not a one-off sale-week spike.

33% vs 19%

of late-delivery complaints also mention trying to reach support, against other complaints.

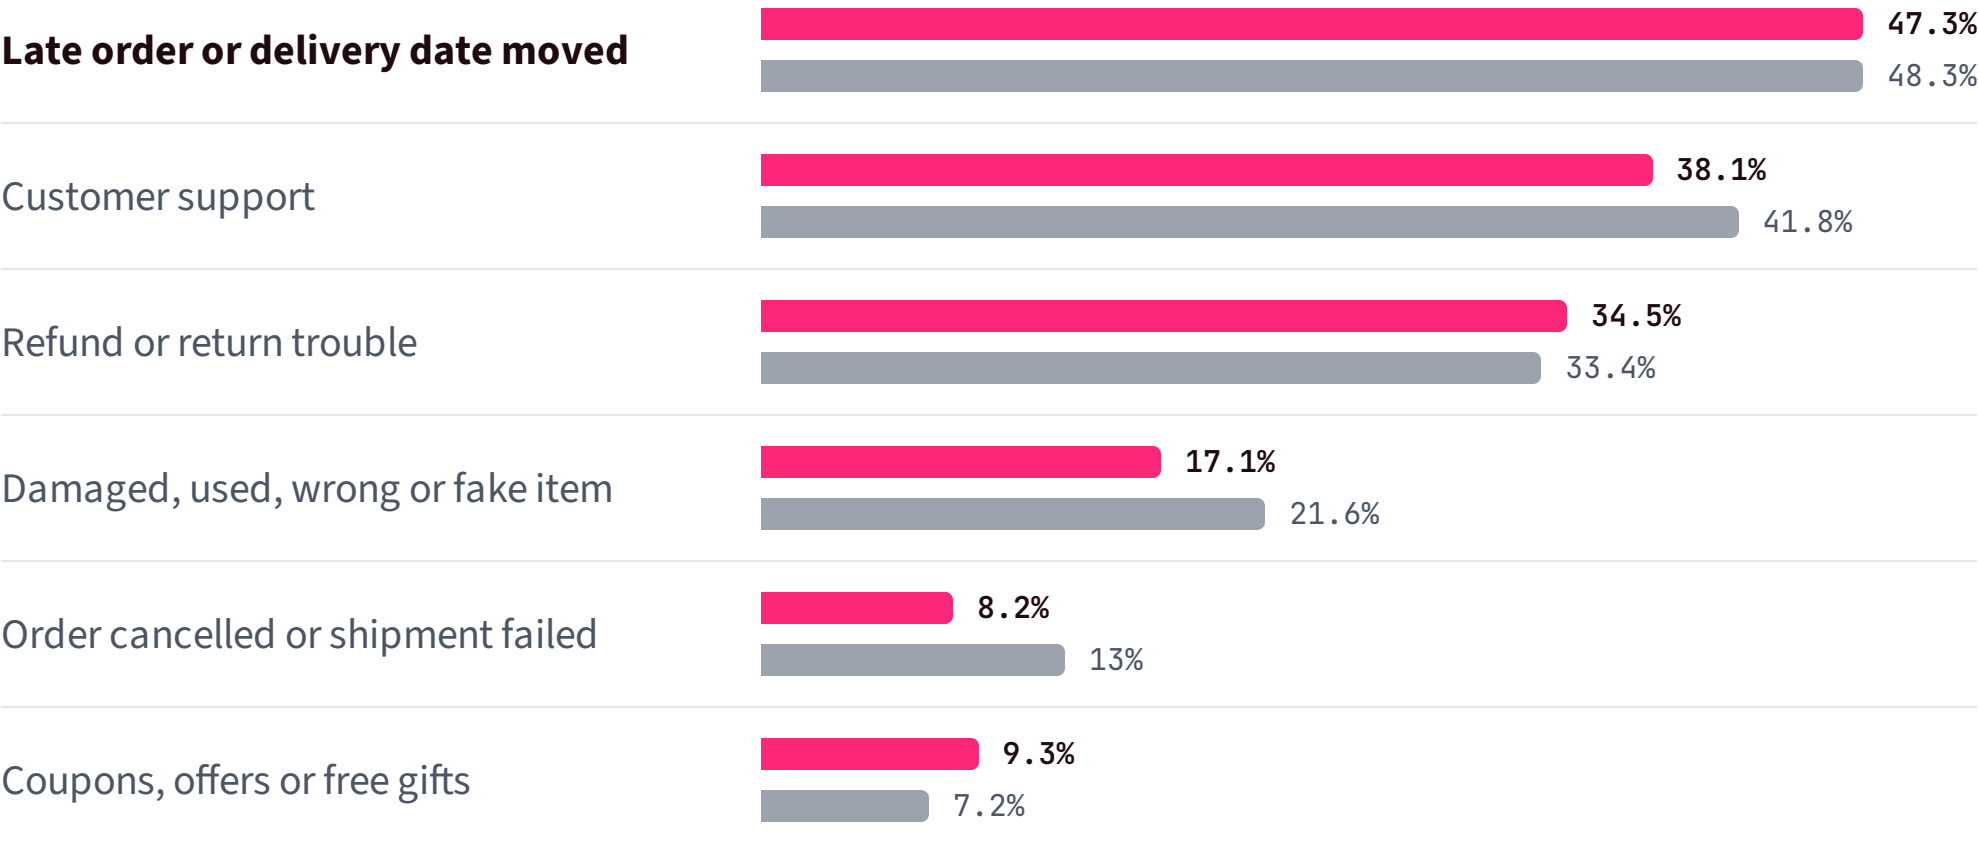

“If you can’t deliver on the promised date, then why do you show that date while placing the order?”

Nykaa does better than Purplle on product issues. Delivery dates are where both slip

WHAT'S WORKING

Fewer complaints than Purplle about damaged, wrong or fake items (17% vs 22%) and about cancelled orders (8% vs 13%). Customers complain less about the product; the wait is the problem.

“My prepaid order was promised for 15th and 16th August, but Nykaa keeps extending the delivery date every day and it is now showing 20th August.”

The date moves, and customers can't do anything about it

THE DATE KEEPS MOVING

“the promised delivery date was 9 August. However, you have now changed the delivery date to 17 August and then to 27 August.”

THE OPTIONS DON'T WORK

“There are options like urgent delivery, cancellation, delivery person's contact number, and customer support, but it always says, ‘This service is not provided.’”

LOCKED AFTER DISPATCH

“locking you out of basic edits, cancellations, or driver contacts the moment a package leaves the warehouse.”

1★ · 21 Aug 2026

WHY IT MATTERS

A late order turns into a support contact: 33% of late-delivery complaints mention trying to reach support, against 19% of other complaints. Nykaa’s shipping policy says most orders dispatch in 1–4 business days, and items shipped by brands can take longer.

Make the first date shown the date that holds

#	CHANGE	WHAT IT DOES	FROM THE REVIEWS
01	An honest date at checkout	Show a date range by pin code, and flag items shipped by the brand, which the policy says can take longer.	“why do you show that date while placing the order?”
02	Tell before the date passes	A push with the new date and the reason, sent before the old date lapses, not after.	“changed the delivery date to 17 August and then to 27 August”
03	Self-serve that works after dispatch	Cancel, contact the courier or ask for urgent delivery without opening a chat.	“it always says, ‘This service is not provided.’”
04	Make it right automatically	A small credit when the first date is missed, with no request needed.	33% of late complaints mention support

HOW I’D KNOW IT WORKED

Share of orders delivered by the first date shown at checkout, every week, by pin-code cluster.

Guardrail: checkout conversion holds when dates are shown as honest ranges.

WHAT I CAN’T SEE

Courier data, or which orders ship from brands. Some of this may already exist; treat these as starting points.
